Mayor George B. Santer read the following MAYOR SENTER'S MESSAGE. Gentlemen of the City Council of the City of

The municipal year now closes, and with its close cease the duties you honored me with in May last, on the resignation of the then Mayor, H.m. I. U. Masters. These duties, which may sometimes be disagrees-ble and difficult when entered upon in the midst of an administration, have been rendered pleasant and as easy as the nature of them admits of, by the good judgment which characterized your proceedings, and by the willing assistance you and all others of the city government have afforded me, and the mutual good feeling that has existed.

The past year has been one of continued prosperity. Alarms, it is true, have agitated our community, at times, of raids from over the border; but happily no foe has reached our shores, and business has pursued its customary routine, and our citizens have been unmolested in their wonted occupations. The war, raging furiously in the regions of armed disloyalty, has not afflicted us with its immediate terrors. A vigilant and strong National Government has assur-ed us prosperity and unexampled success in all the pursuits and enterprises of peaceful life. Labor has been well remunerated; many commercial and manufacturing schomes have been projected and put in operation; p pulation has rapidly increased, and though prices of living have reached a height unprecedented in many years, yet suffering and want have not been proportionably augmented. No epidomic disease has visited us, no largely extended fires have ruined the merchant or mechanic, nor made houseless the poor; no riots have diseased us, and no feverish excitements have perverted good judgment. The municipal expenses, in consequence of higher life. Labor has been well remune in the person of higher orices of labor and material, and the calls or bounties and relief, incidental to pro-onged war, have been much increased, but to beyond the proportionate requirements of the increased population and the increased population and the increased resources of our people.

It is a gratifying fact that the manufacturing interests and the carrying trade, particularly in coal, iron, and iron ore, are rapidly enlarging themselves. The imnense trade in the articles enumerated has become a distinctive one, and in it our city and port have no successful rival. The pressure of the passenger business has com-pelled the erection of a larger Union Depot, and which, when finished, will be notable as one of the finest structures of the kind in the country. The many and large docks and freight depots are found to be insuffi-cient, and new grounds for other and more extensive docks and depots are sought for The permission given to railroad companies to extend their tracks across the river at some point near the entrance to the harbor will, to a great extent, afford means for present rollef, and et the same time render valuable much land hitherto unavailable.

It is needless, I trust, to urge upon you the duty of seconding, by all proper legis-lation, every effort of manufacturers, railroad capitalists, and the commercial co munity, to i crease and improve their ca-pacities and conveniencies for business, for benefits conferred on them inure directly and indirectly to our common welfare, in the increase of population and wealth, and onsequent importance of the city.

All requests of the Government for reruits for the army, I am happy tosay, have been complied with cheerfully by our citizens, and every available means used to aid in the speedy putting down of the re-PUBLIC SCROOLS.

The Public Schools, under the management of the Board of Education, are in a highly presperous condition. Such has, however, been the growth of the city, that the many and commediens school homes prove inadequate to accommodate the number of sholars entitled to instruction. During the year additional room has been provided by the Board of Education for six hundred and seventy-eight acholars, and ten new schools have been established. This has been accomplished by renting rooms, and by economising space. Scores of children are yet refused admission for want of room. This matter deserves your immediate attention. The expense attending building now being enormous, it becomes a matter of question whether substantial and permanent houses should be CUTLERY AND PLATED WARE of at reduced prices, at COWLES & CO. 8, Forgon, and wind up with a merry dance.

Stantial and permanent houses should be procured; but no doubt will be entertained, it believe, as to the necessity of immediate public welfare. In necessary expenditures produced prices, at COWLES & CO. 8, some way, ample means of instruction for all who are entitled to it.

The business of the Infirmary and outdoor relief has, I am well assured, be conducted judiciously—the wants of the poor having been properly relieved and concern for the city regarded. The report of the Infirmary Director, will fully acquaint you with the details of expendi-

The duties of the Health Officer have been very satisfactorily performed, so satisfactorily indeed that nothing has occurred deserving special comment.

POLICE DEPARTMENT. The expenses of the Police Department have been much increased over those of the previous year, and this is attributable chiefly to two causes, viz: the higher wages to policemen, and the greater number employed. The first became necessary from the increased expense of living. Fra-quent advices of projected raids and in-cendiary attempts from refugee robels in Canada, were deemed by our citizens and your honorable body sufficiently authentic, and the danger sufficiently serious, to render the omission of any precautionary measure reprehensible, and consequently, by your direction, the Police force has been

Aside from these efforts to guard against such unusual dangers, the labors of the Department have been as usual, and I be-lieve the records will show that the activity and diligence of the Police have secured the prompt enforcement of the law and the maintenance of the peace.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The report of the industrial School and Children's Aid Society show continued Children's Aid Society show continued activity on the part of the worthy Super-intendent and his devoted assistants in carrying out the designs of the organiza-tion. During the past year homes in good families in the country have been provided for fifty-two children who otherwise would have been but homeless wanderers and subjected to every temptation to crime Whatever may be done by you towards the wnater of this institution will be so much done in mid of the prevention of crime, and for the relief of children poor and destitute by no act of their own.

PIRE DEPARTMENT. The present system of a paid steam fire engine department continues satisfactory. The fire slarm telegraph adopted and put in operation a few months since has proved all that could be desired, and the former all that could be desired, and the former uncortainties of alarms are ilmost entirely obvisted. I have the pleasure of believing that both the Fire and Water Committee, and the Chief Engineer, as well as his subordinates, have promptly and judiciously performed their respective duties.

During the year 1864 the pipes for distributing water have been ex ended over two miles. The total length of pater pipes is now twenty-nine and a half miles. A new main has been commenced, which, when completed, will prevent any chance of failure in the supply of water in consequence of any accident to the old one. Nine fire hydrants have been added, making a total of one hundred and sixty-seven (167). There are, besides, thirty-two reservoirs supplied with water from the Water Works. The number of water takers is fourteen hundred and forty-five (1445) The receipts or water over running expenses and re-airs were errore 75, being an increase of $5,288 94 over the previous year. The increase on the tariff of water rates has been 25 per cent., while the increase re-25 per cent., while the increase rather are stated as over 50 per cent. This increase in rates has been cheerfully acquies od in, the propriety of it being obvious.

It will be seen from these statements that the Water Works are in a prosperous condi-Many projected street improvements have been delayed or postponed, by reason of a scarcity of labor and the enormous expense scarcity of moor and the shormone expenses of material; and yet 4,467 feet of streets have been graded and paved, and four times that length has been graded, 3,789 feet of grading have been contracted for and are nearly completed; 500 feet of grading and 3,539 feet of grading and paving have been contracted for and not commenced; 2.517 feet of sewers have been completed. A draw bridge, 270 feet long, with super-structure of iron and sub-structure of stone over the canal and river at Seneca street has been begun, and it is expected, will be completed before the first of July next. Its cost, it is estimated, will be about $51,00 towards which the county will pay about $19,000. Two fire reservoirs have been built. Many improvements in streets and extension of sewerage are projected, but these it is un-necessary for me to specify.

The expenses of the city have much increased in consequence of increase of prices in every department of labor and for every kind of material. Under no circumstances about the municipal government of a city so weathy as this be allowed to want, for money to carry on all needful operations; neither should there be any further accumulation of debt. When the Mayor had concluded reading his message, notice was given that immedintely on the adjournment of the old Council, the newly-elected members should some forward and take the oath of office, when the new Council would enter upon its first session. The Council then adjourned sinc die.

Mayor Senter took the chair, and the eleven new members advanced within the enclosure, and were sworn in. The followng gentlemen are the members elect;

Buhrer Pettengill Presley Randerson Crawford Jones Pelton Reynolds Thorman.

Having taken the oath of office, they took their seats, and the new Council entered upon the business before it It was moved that the Council proceed to the election of a President, Thomas Jones, Jr., the popular and efficient President of the old Council, was nominated by Mr. Dangler, and received every vote except his own

Taking the chair, he, in a few words, thanked the Council for the consideration shown him, and hoped he might, as the presiding officer, discharge the business in such a way as to satisfy the Council and benefit the city.

WThe Chairs appointed Mesers. Sturges, Roberts and Townsand a committee to wait upon the Mayor-elect, H. M. Chapin, Esq., and escort him to the Council Chamber. Mayor Senter administered the oath to the Mayor-elect, who immediately took the stand and read the following inaugural: ADDRESS OF MAYOR CHAPIR.

Gentlemen of the Oity Council: I assume the duties of Chief Executive Officer of this city with much diffidence .-While fully appreciating the confidence of my fellow citizens in placing me in this honorable though arduous position, I fuel overwhelmed with anxiety lest I may not be able to meet their expectations, and I shall rely upon you, gentlemen, for co-operation and counsel.

The position to which my fellow citizens have elevated me is one uncought, and I may say undesired by me, but I bring to its duties an honest desire to perform them impartially, and a resolution to give my whole time and devote all my energies to the interest and welfare of our beautiful Never having been a member of the city

Never having occur a member of the city government, it cannot be expected of me, neither would it be wise or profitable for me, to review any department of the gov-ernment of the city with reference to making recommendations to you, and it is more out of respect to the custom of my prede-cessors that I address you at this same than with any expectation of enlightening you or forshadowing any policy that I may have. I prefer to be first taught by experience, and shall then from time to time call your atsnail then from time to time call your at-tention to such measures as may seem cal-culated to promote the public good.

My immediate predecessor has laid be-fore you a full and able statement of the present condition of the various departtweer the Depot and Johnson House, a leather Pocket book, containing about three bandred dolments of the city government. Referring you to his financial report you will observe that in all matters of expenditure during the coming year you will have to act with will go hand in hand with you, while at the same time they will be'd you to a rigid accountability for any uncless or extravagant expenditure in our current expenses.

I join with you in congratulations that the rebellion against our government, which has for four years been desolating a large part of our country, has been troiden under loot, and that peace will soon roign through-out our country. Far removed as we have out our country. Far removed as we have been from the strife, we have scarcely felt its existence, except as we have been called upon for our fathers, brothers and sons to join the great army to beat back the enemy from our own borders. As individuals and as a part of this Government, the questions at large have been still the properties of the National Government, the first steps in which have already been taken, to be followed upon to our own borders. As individuals and the properties of the National Government, the first steps in which have already been taken, to be followed upon for our fathers, brothers steadily and vigorously. The consummator is the properties of the national Government, the first steps in which have already been taken, to be followed upon for our fathers, brothers are already been taken, to be followed upon for our fathers, brothers are already been taken, to be followed upon for our fathers, brothers are already been taken, to be followed upon for our fathers, because the properties of the national Government, the fathers are already been taken, to be followed upon for our fathers, and the properties of the national Government, the properties of the national Government and the national Government an tions at issue have been withil to us all, and we cannot have been unmindful of the re-sult, and to that kind Providence who has carried the destinies of this country in His hand, and brought it safely out of its trial, purified of its great sin, should our grati-

Our brave soldiers a grateful people will ever have in remembrance. Our gratitude, together with ore, as tustess is concerned we that these to at times augmented, varying, however, in number, as the danger seemed more or less s living interest in their future welfare, is s living interest in their future welfare, is all we can give.

The honored dead, alas, we cannot receive, we cannot honor. Their ashev lie almost unmarked on every battle-field. When their record is made up a marble shall should rise on our Public Park, perpetuating to all coming generations the names of those who went out to fight the battles of their country and never returned.

I invoke upon your labors the blessing of Divine Providence, that He may guide you in your legislation to seek only that which shall be for the best interests of the people.

till Wednesday, each on ball of $500. M'ans Caminia Usso,-It has already been announced that Camilla Urso, the celebrated violinist, assisted by several distinguished artistes, will give two grand concerts in Brainard's Hall on Wodnesday and Thursday evenings. We are sure that she will draw after her all the lovers of music and all the lavers of wonderful feat, that the city contains. Her performances on the violin are marcelous, and her artis ic skill will attract many, while the fact that the artist is a woman, and still so masterful. will draw to her musical exhibitions still larger numbers. The sale of tickets for the concert will begin this morning at Brainard's music store. As there will be a great rush for reserved seats, those will do well who attend to this matter in season.

A Special Norice .- All persons having claims against the Committee for materia's or services in connection with the funeral obsequies on Friday last, are requested to present such claims at the office of the Mayor to-day. It is important that every claim be presented at the Mayor's office by this (Tuesday) evening.
